

JANINE MCKENNA

Dancer and Instructor

Ballet and Pointe

Janine McKenna has been teaching ballet to South Bay residents since 1997 and is proud to have been with Fusion since its inception. She began her training at the Palos Verdes Ballet and performed in several classical productions, rising through the ranks of corps de ballet to principal dancer. During high school, Janine was invited to continue her training at several prestigious institutions, including New York's School of American Ballet, the North Carolina School of the Arts, the Pennsylvania Ballet, and the Royal Danish Ballet in Copenhagen, where she was the recipient of the distinguished Bartholin Prize.

After receiving her B.A. in Theatre Arts from Loyola Marymount University, Janine worked in the entertainment industry as an actor, dancer, and choreographer. In May 2010, Janine earned her Master's degree in Education-Counseling from California State University at Dominguez Hills. She and husband live and love life in the San Pedro, CA.
